I. TABLE OF CONTENTS

PART FOUR OF SIXTEEN

Donald "Hitler" Trump Births the Beast System.

Page

I. TABLE OF CONTENTS……. 1

II. FINDING OF FACTS ABOUT DONALD "HITLER" TRUMP……. 2

"Then the lawless one will be revealed… with all power, signs, and lying wonders."

— 2 Thessalonians 2:8–10.

XVI. FINDING OF FACTS ABOUT DONALD "HITLER" TRUMP

1. On January 20, 2025, Defendant Donald J. Trump was inaugurated and sworn in as the 47th President of the United States.
2. Immediately upon resuming office, Trump issued a sweeping clemency order granting full pardons to more than 1,500 individuals involved in the January 6, 2021, Capitol riot—including violent offenders who attacked police officers and other innocent people working that day. These individuals joined together to violently overthrow the government, nullifying the rule of law and signaling impunity for domestic terrorism.

3. According to reporting by NPR, dozens of those pardoned had prior criminal convictions or pending charges for offenses such as rape, sexual abuse of a minor, domestic violence, manslaughter, and drug trafficking. For instance, Andrew Taake, a Houston man arrested for assaulting police officers during the riot, was later arrested on an outstanding sex crime charge. Similarly, Theodore Middendorf was charged in Illinois for predatory criminal sexual assault of a child and was sentenced to 19 years in prison. Peter Schwartz had a lengthy criminal history with 38 prior convictions, including serious offenses.

4. In the months following, thousands of additional pardon petitions were fast-tracked and approved, bypassing DOJ standards, internal ethics reviews, and advisory recommendations. Among those allegedly pardoned were high-profile figures accused or convicted of human trafficking or sexual misconduct, including but not limited to:
    a. Andrew Tate, a social media figure charged internationally with human trafficking and rape, was welcomed back to the U.S. and politically aligned with the Trump administration.
    b. Conor McGregor, a celebrity previously accused in multiple jurisdictions of sexual assault, was reportedly offered clemency for federal tax charges and received favorable treatment following campaign donations.
    c. These pardons violate the public trust, endanger victims and survivors, and evidence a broader pattern of trafficking normalization and state protection of predators.

5. The Trump administration has renewed and escalated mass deportations, including the use of military cargo planes to forcibly remove migrants—primarily women and children—to destinations across Central America, South America, and the Caribbean. According to multiple reports and whistleblower accounts, a significant number of these individuals have not returned to their countries of origin and remain unaccounted for, mostly women.

‘Kept in limbo:’ As uncertainty over Trump plans looms, migrant children struggle to find legal aid in the Northwest

Minors are housed at the Minors are housed at the Donna Department of Homeland Security holding facility, the main detention center for unaccompanied children in the Rio Grande Valley run by U.S. Customs and Border Protection, in Donna, Texas, in this 2021 photo. in this 2021 photo.

Dario Lopez-Mills / AP

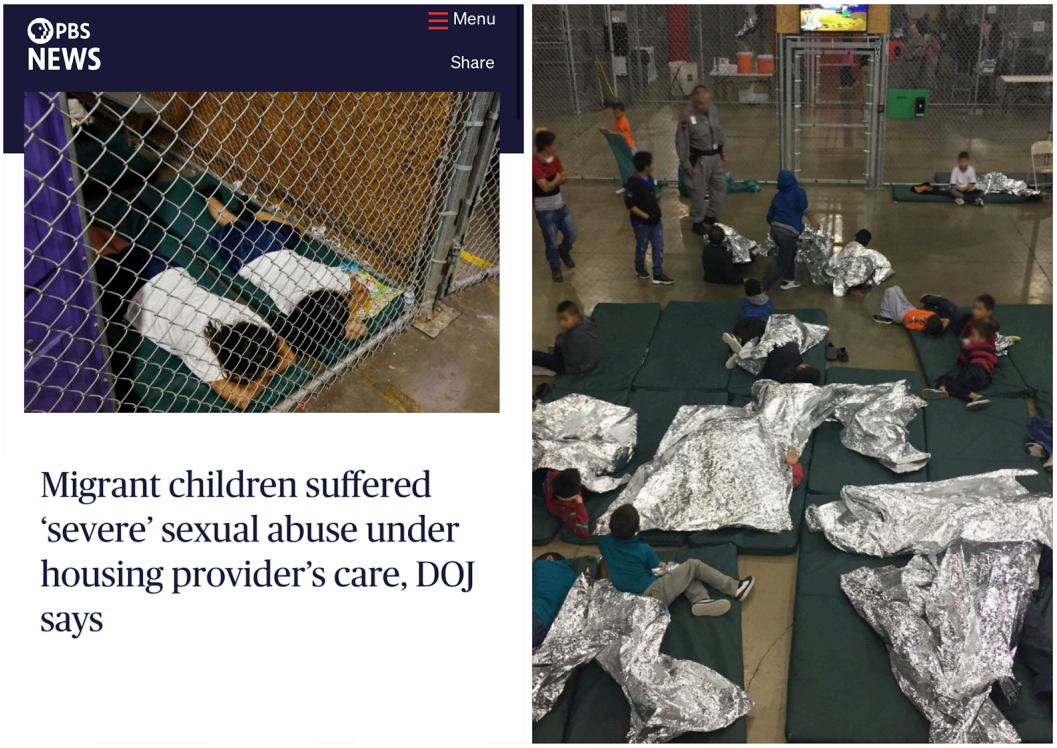
6. Allegations from humanitarian organizations indicate that many deportees are instead transferred to unauthorized detention and labor facilities in foreign countries, or vanish entirely en route— validating the people’s grave concerns of human trafficking, forced labor, and systematic extermination of vulnerable populations.

Party for Socialism and Liberation • PSLWeb.org
Do Not DEPORT MY FRIENDS!
EXTREME AGENDA!
Party for Socialism and Liberation • PSLWeb.org
If you wanted teachers to stand aside & let ICE take our students, maybe you shouldn't have conditioned us to be willing to take a bullet for them!

US immigration

'They're hurting our children, our babies': US schools on high alert amid Trump immigration raids

7. Allegations of Sexual Violence by ICE Agents: Numerous reports have surfaced alleging that agents with U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) have committed acts of sexual violence and abuse against vulnerable women and children held in federal immigration custody. Whistleblowers, former detainees, and human rights advocates have detailed instances of rape, molestation, coercion, and sexual exploitation within ICE-run or ICE-contracted detention centers. Victims have described being assaulted in isolated areas of the facility, denied medical attention, and threatened with deportation or retaliation if they reported the abuse.



8. Particularly troubling are the accounts from mothers and unaccompanied minors, many of whom report being separated from family members and then targeted by male officers under the guise of “wellness checks” or “interviews.” In some cases, ICE agents have allegedly traded basic necessities—like food, hygiene products, or access to phones—in exchange for sexual acts, constituting clear acts of exploitation and human trafficking under federal law. Investigative journalism and watchdog organizations have also documented a culture of impunity within ICE facilities, where complaints of rape or abuse are either directed ignored, dismissed, or internally suppressed. Detainees often lack access to legal counsel, mental health support, or external oversight, making them especially vulnerable to repeated victimization.

Handcuffs, assaults, and drugs called ‘vitamins’: Children allege grave abuse at migrant detention facilities
By Blake Ellis, Melanie Hicken, and Bob Ortega, CNN Investigates

9. Discovery of 383 Bodies Near the U.S.-Mexico Border Highlights Systemic Neglect and Human Rights Violations: Recent investigations by Mexican authorities uncovered a shocking mass of 383 deceased individuals improperly stored at a private crematorium in Ciudad Juárez, a city situated directly on the U.S.-Mexico border. These remains, some preserved through embalming but never cremated, had been discarded indiscriminately, stacked one atop another in unsanitary and degrading conditions. The bodies, estimated to have been held for three to four years, represent a profound failure of forensic and humanitarian responsibility. This grim discovery—coupled with the arrest of the crematorium’s owner and an employee—raises serious questions about the systemic neglect and potential criminal activity facilitating the disappearance and mishandling of human remains. Families of the deceased were reportedly provided with unidentifiable ashes instead of the remains of their loved ones, adding further trauma to an already tragic situation. The existence of such mass negligence at a key border location underscores the broader context of human rights abuses and lack of accountability in immigration enforcement and border management. It signals a dire need for comprehensive reforms to ensure dignity, transparency, and justice for those who perish during migration or detention processes. This incident forms part of a larger pattern of abuse and cover-up related to immigrant treatment, reinforcing claims that detention centers and border policies under current administrations contribute directly to loss of life, suffering, and systemic violations of human rights.

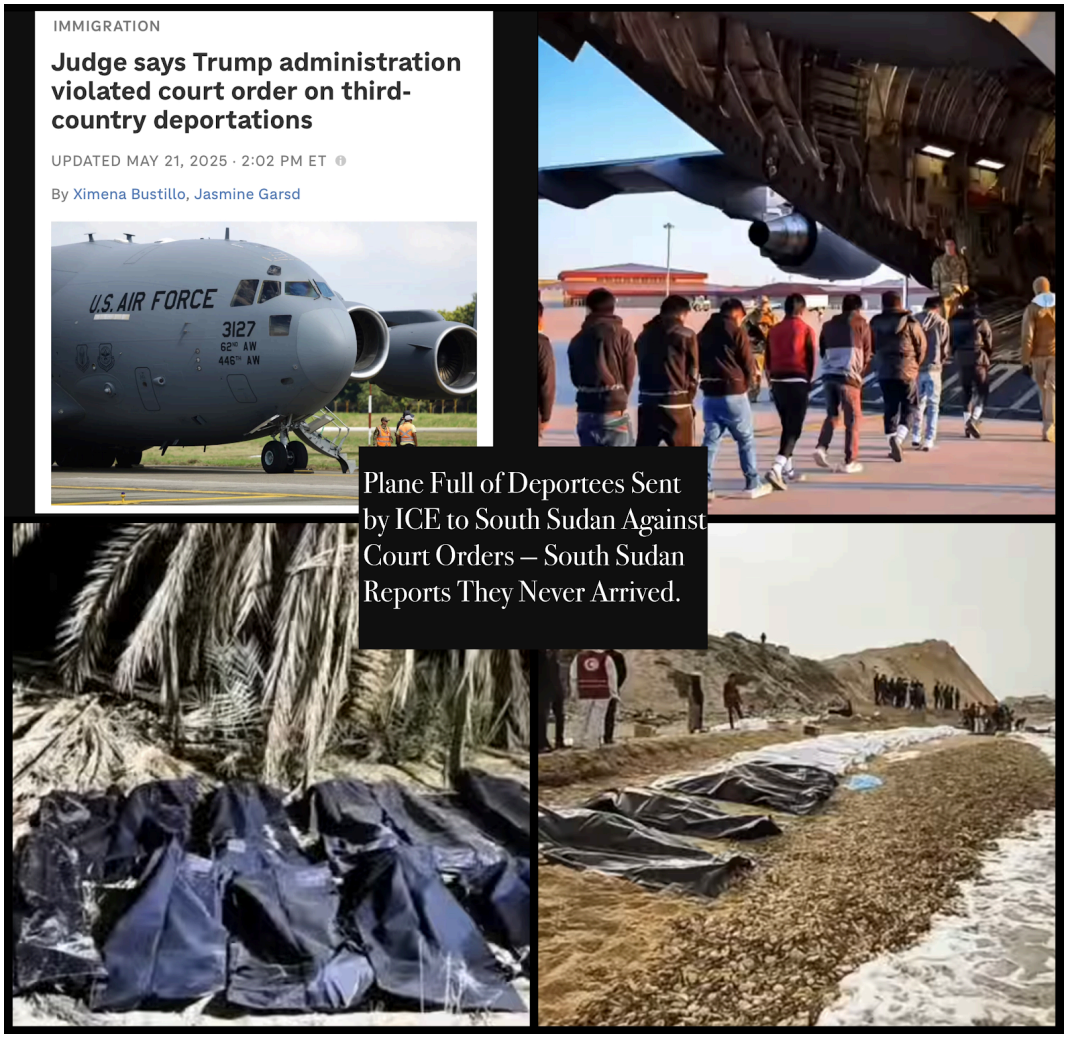
Two people have been arrested after police found 383 corpses piled up in a private crematorium in northern Mexico's Ciudad

10. Multiple reports describe bodies washing ashore, bearing shackles and matching the descriptions of detained migrants previously seen loaded onto cargo aircrafts. Experts have raised the alarm that deportees are being ejected mid-flight and drowned at sea, suggesting a deliberate genocidal policy under the guise of immigration control.



IMMIGRATION
Judge says Trump administration violated court order on third-country deportations
UPDATED MAY 21, 2025 · 2:02 PM ET
By Ximena Bustillo, Jasmine Garsd
U.S. AIR FORCE
3127
Plane Full of Deportees Sent by ICE to South Sudan Against Court Orders – South Sudan Reports They Never Arrived.

11. These acts mirror past terrorism unleashed by the Biden administration such as the disappearance of over 300,000 unaccompanied immigrant children, many of whom were placed with unvetted sponsors, and subsequently trafficked. Under Trump, these abuses appear not only to continue, but to have intensified in scale and secrecy.

ICE unable to track nearly 300K immigrant children: DHS report

Ali Bradley and Patrick Djordjevic

10 months ago

(NewsNation) — A new Department of Homeland Security (DHS) report argues the U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement Agency (ICE) cannot account for unaccompanied immigrant children at the border.

12. The administration has opened and expanded militarized detention centers for immigrants under inhumane and dangerous conditions. Witnesses report:

    a. Lack of food and clean water;

    b. Extreme heat, beatings, and shackling;

    c. Mass deaths covered up or denied;

    d. Survivors recount brutal beatings by guards and continuous physical restraints, often leaving detainees shackled for hours or days;

e. Access to medical care is minimal or nonexistent, with many suffering from dehydration, malnutrition, and untreated illnesses;

f. Reports from whistleblowers and humanitarian observers reveal that several detainees have died under suspicious circumstances, with authorities systematically covering up the deaths or attributing them to natural causes without proper investigation. Families of the missing report little to no information regarding the fate of their loved ones. These sites function as modern concentration camps and pose a direct threat to life, particularly for women and children detained without due process.

g. Environmental hazards, such as exposure to contaminated water and insect infestations, exacerbate the perilous conditions inside the facility. The use of such harsh measures and neglect amounts to a deliberate disregard for human life and dignity, raising grave concerns about violations of international human rights laws.

13. “Alligator Alcatraz,” State-Sanctioned Torture on a Government Island of Death and Eco-terrorism: The administration recently announced the opening of a new immigrant detention center known as “Alligator Alcatraz,” located on a remote, swampy island off the coast of Florida. The facility is surrounded by natural barriers—alligators, pythons, and dense wetlands—making escape virtually impossible. The detention center consists of a series of hardened, metal shipping containers and temporary modular buildings arranged in a grid pattern across the island’s marshy terrain. The perimeter is heavily fortified with tall chain-link fences topped with razor wire, motion sensors, and armed patrols. Officials promoted the location’s natural wildlife barriers as an added “security feature,” emphasizing that the surrounding alligators and pythons serve as a deterrent against any attempted escapes.

White House Press Secretary Karoline Leavitt said the facility is 'surrounded by dangerous wildlife'

This announcement was met with widespread criticism and alarm, as it effectively turns the detention site into a modern-day island concentration camp, isolated and inescapable. Inside, the site lacks proper infrastructure for sanitation, climate control, and basic living necessities. The island’s humid environment, combined with swarms of insects and reptiles, adds to the harshness of the conditions detainees face daily. In facilities such as this, which are geographically isolated and surrounded by dangerous wildlife, the lack of transparency and external monitoring only increases the risk of abuse. These conditions create an environment ripe for systemic sexual violence, akin to war crimes and state-sanctioned trafficking. This pattern of abuse not only violates the constitutional rights of detainees under the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments but also constitutes a violation of international human rights law, including the Convention Against Torture and the Trafficking Victims Protection Act.

Trump visits 'Alligator Alcatraz' detention centre
Updated / Wednesday, 2 Jul 2025 06:47
Donald Trump tours a migrant detention centre, dubbed 'Alligator Alcatraz'
Florida AG proposes 'Alligator Alcatraz' migrant detention center in Everglades
"You don't need to invest that much in the perimeter," said James Uthmeier.
By Bill Hutchinson
June 25, 2025, 6:27 PM ET • 8 min read
Migrant detention center dubbed 'Alligator Alcatraz' proposed for the EvergladesFlorida Attorney General James Uthmeier is getting pushback from

14. The true underlying motive behind these policies appears to be the deliberate preservation and expansion of well established illicit underground markets, including but not limited to: (a) The continuation and protection of domestic cannibalistic networks, which rely on the systematic dehumanization and harvesting of vulnerable populations to maintain their food supply; (b) The facilitation of a black market for sadistic sexual exploitation, ensuring that perpetrators with extreme and violent sexual desires face minimal interference or legal accountability; (c) The sustained profitability of organ trafficking and full-body harvesting operations, wherein human beings are reduced to parts and sold for high-value surgical and experimental procedures, often without consent; (d) The uninterrupted access to adrenochrome and blood-harvesting pipelines, specifically targeting children and young victims, in service of powerful individuals addicted to the physiological and hallucinogenic effects of trauma-induced blood extraction.

Panda Eyes
Instagram
Kara-Louise Hoppo
'panda eyes' occur when a child is sodomised and the trauma bursts capillaries around their eye sockets (which bulge when they're sodomised) which creates the ringed bruising.
ENGEL
In Plain Sight
THIS RIGHT HERE
IS WHY WE DON'T QUIT

15. Trump the Trick: All pathways to public disclosure of the Epstein trafficking records are being systematically obstructed—particularly those that implicate Donald J. Trump directly. Based on prior lawsuits naming Trump and Epstein as ruthless child traffickers, it is more than likely that the full, unredacted "Epstein List" contains damning evidence of Trump's longstanding involvement in international sex trafficking networks and ritual abuse. Following a high-profile political fallout with Elon Musk over the "Big Beautiful Bill," Musk publicly posted on his social platform X that Trump was a known trafficker connected to Epstein. In the weeks that followed, Trump began engaging in erratic and destructive policy behavior, interpreted as a diversion tactic to distract from the growing number of witnesses and whistleblowers speaking out.

16. Shortly after, around June 2025, Defendant Trump ordered airstrikes against Iran's nuclear facilities, including Fordow, Natanz, and Isfahan. These strikes were carried out: (a) Without a formal declaration of war; (b) Without Congressional approval, in violation of the War Powers Resolution; (c) Despite widespread objection from military advisors and U.S. allies. This act constitutes an unlawful use of military force, risking global conflict and bypassing constitutional checks on presidential authority.

NPR
www.npr.org
Trump ordered attack on Iran's nuclear sites without congressional approval
Jun 22, 2025 — Trump ordered attack on Iran's nuclear sites without congressional approval
After the U.S. took military action against three nuclear sites in ...

17. Further underscoring this pattern of deception and psychological manipulation, Donald Trump took to his personal social media platform to claim that intercontinental missiles had been launched toward the United States—a direct threat, he alleged, that was "swiftly neutralized" by U.S. defense systems under his command. No credible evidence, official confirmation, or satellite data ever substantiated these claims. No alerts were issued by NORAD, no foreign governments confirmed such a launch, and no missile debris or radar activity was detected by global monitoring agencies. Despite this, Trump used the fabricated incident to bolster his public image as a wartime leader, justify further military escalation abroad, and instill fear among the American people. This fabricated missile scare is emblematic of a larger tactic, the utilization of false or exaggerated crises to consolidate power, distract from criminal exposure, and manipulate public perception. By stoking fear and presenting himself as the sole protector of national security, Trump seeks to drown out mounting evidence of his involvement in trafficking networks, unlawful pardons, and widespread human rights abuses.

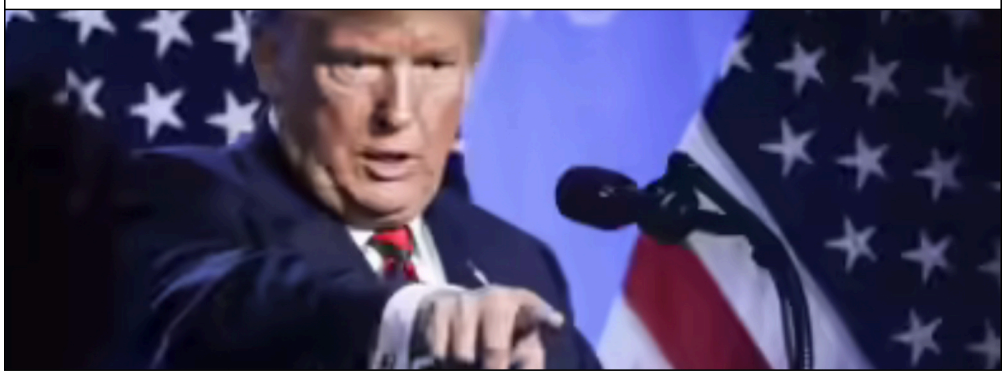
'Very weak response': Trump says 13 of 14 Iranian missiles shot down, no US casualties; claims Iran has 'gotten it out of system'

TOI World Desk / TIMESOFINDIA.COM / Updated: Jun 25, 2025, 13:02 IST



12. As of July 2025, Defendant Trump's policies, pardons, and military actions have: (a) Weakened public trust in the judiciary; (b) Enabled child traffickers and war criminals to escape justice; (c) Targeted immigrants, whistleblowers, and marginalized groups; (d) Undermined the rule of law; (e) Constitutes acts of treason, genocide, and crimes against humanity.